

We're pirates bold from days of old
When others fear as the wind does howl
We set our sails and brave the waves to search for treasure coves
O ye who sail against the tide with treasure in your hold
From pirate flags your faces hide beware our lust for gold!

We love to fight and dance by night beneath our lady moon
We'll lay our hands on all your booty soon

Pirates, pirates, great to be back at sea
Pirates, pirates, this is the life for me
A following wind and a tot of rum and we're happy as can be
You don't stand a chance if on us you advance
We'll win – just wait and see.